Re: IRS Notice 2020-32 regarding deductible expenses related to Paycheck Protection Program loans

Dear Chairmen Neal and Grassley,

Thank you for your continued support for Congressional action to aid the economy as the country grapples with the novel coronavirus (COVID-19). As Congress has aggressively responded to provide relief for both employers and employees, the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP), administered by the Small Business Administration and the Department of the Treasury has emerged as an essential lifeline for struggling small business owners as they deal with federally, state, and/or locally mandated shutdowns as well as slowdowns of economic activity due to COVID-19.

As you are aware, on Thursday, April 30th, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) issued Notice 2020-32 which "clarifie[d] that no deduction is allowed under the Internal Revenue Code (Code) for an expense that is otherwise deductible if the payment of the expense results in forgiveness of a covered loan pursuant to section 1106(b) of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act)." This is at odds with the legislative text of the CARES Act, specifically Section 1106(i), which says that, with regard to the "taxability" of the loan forgiveness available to PPP recipients, any amounts forgiven by a PPP loan "shall be excluded from gross income" (emphasis added).

The impact of this IRS ruling is significant. The effect will be to substantially increase the tax liability of PPP loan recipients at the worst possible time. For C-Corporations, it means an increase in the net after tax liability of PPP loan forgiveness by as much as 21%. For pass-through businesses, such as S Corporations, the marginal increase could be as high as 37%. Once state income taxes are included, the impact will be even greater.

As both of you have publicly stated, the IRS's interpretation of the CARES Act is contrary to the intent of Congress. It makes little sense to exclude an employer's PPP loan forgiveness income from tax liability with the one hand, only to lose the same amount in deductions with the other hand. With many businesses struggling to stay afloat, it is imperative that the rescue measures enacted by Congress, including PPP loans, provide the maximum amount of flexibility to employers that they can. We are very appreciative of your recent letter to the IRS noting that Notice 2020-32 is contrary to Congressional intent, but absent subsequent guidance from the IRS, we encourage you to amend the CARES Act in future legislation that would explicitly waive Code Section 265 from applying to PPP loan forgiveness. Thank you again for your continued support.

Sincerely,
